We're rolling with Joachim Hagopian, author of pedophilia in Empire the book series, you guys are about to be on book five. Correct. So you've done a lot of research, prolific amount of work here. I want to just start by asking what gets you, you're from LA. I don't know your full background. So I want to ask what gets you interested in this topic of, you know, obviously such a dark topic of pedophilia, and how it relates to deep state, global politics, you know, the whole human trafficking, international everything, how do you personally get inspired to dive into this world?

J Joachim 00:49
Okay, well, I was a licensed therapist in Los Angeles for Oh, to 1520 years, I've been in the mental health field for about a over a quarter century, out there in LA, and I had a lot of clients who were pedophile victims, mostly through incest and relatives and family, friends, and that I never had direct contact with anybody who's traffic victim, to any government, you know, agent or anything like that. I know, I knew about that. But because it hadn't really. I had never encountered anything like that. So it was just something more than the intellect and anything that I tangibly experienced. But I was always interested in that, because we all are all, you know, children are, you know, they're sacred to me they are because God expresses itself through children that innocence, it's, it's it's beautiful thing. And to have that spoil, deviled and damaged and ruined and killed the soul. It's just, it burns me up. Literally, it just, you know, that's why I have passion. So I was born with that kind of passion for, for all living beings, especially those who are oppressed and suffer at the hands of very cruel and evil people. And so after I left Los Angeles, I decided to take a turn with my career and become a journalist and independent journalists. I work with Nikhil chossudovsky from global research a lot. He gave me my start, actually. And I've been doing that for about seven years now. And so when pizza gate came along, I was about the only journalist that was really writing about it. Nicole wouldn't touch it. It was too controversial for a lot of even alternative news sites. They just, you know, I understood I understood, but one site did carry all my, my articles. And that stopped dotnet. So I have to do a shout out to them, too. It's a very good site. So TT dotnet. Very good. And I also wrote for Lew Rockwell and for a little while I wrote for veterans today as well. So that's how it all evolved. I was basically a journalist doing geopolitical, analytical kind of work and material. And, and then pizza gate came along, and I wrote probably about seven because I was also writing about Epstein and Prince Andrew, and all of that was coming out, you know, 2015 and stuff with Prince Andrew and, and so it ended up where I was approached by James Fetzer. I'm sure you know who he is. He's a heavyweight. Everybody knows that, you know, is in Independent News. Everybody knows the activist and writer of James Fetzer. Yeah. And he approached me and we were actually with veterans today together. So he approached me and said, you know, with your background, you know, you're the gotten the articles you've been writing. You're the guy to write the book on this topic. So I started writing, it was like April of 2017. I started out and and then Robert, David Steele came along about two months later, and he said Exactly the same suggestion that, you know, I need to be writing. And so I told him, I'm already doing it. So that's how it all got rolling, you know, and it's been now approaching four years, working every day in the trenches here with my little computer and punching it out.

S

Sean 05:22

So get into for me how this network ultimately how do you how does it work for people if they can just look at the over like the bird's eye view, right, of the trafficking networks? Because before this before this week, I mentioned a little bit, you know, people are starting understand that we've heard over the years CIA is involved with drug trafficking, for example, you can't allow you can have as much drug trafficking through major countries without intelligence police and others looking the other way or being involved financially, you know, and kickbacks and whatnot from or even again, even financially, Wall Street banking, that money, there has to be a connection between the ruling powers, the drug trafficking, same with arms. And the same with human trafficking. Right. So if we had a bird's eye view, how does the overall trafficking networks, what does that look like? Who what would you say is sort of the center of power that oversees the global apparatus? And then obviously, you have smaller players, and you have those that are, you know, not necessarily beholden that are, you know, much smaller compared to the larger right network that that rules?

J

Joachim 06:27

Yeah. Basically, it boils down to the three PowerPoints on the earth, the City of London, rothchild money, the royal families, the black nobility of Europe, bloodlines. And Rome, and Vatican, they're a big part of it, the Catholic Church, and Washington DC, the power capital for wars around the world, you know, so the three is the unholy trinity of all the trafficking that's illegal. They're about an hour behind it. And of course, as you mentioned, they have their multiple players involved. But that is the nucleus of the power structure. But I would really say it's, it's the black nobility, bloodlines that have the money, the power and the wealth to do it. And everybody under them, they are simply pawns and players, but they are behind it. Black nobility of family bloodlines of Europe. And But why?

S

Sean 07:46

I mean, it's interesting, because I try to, you know, comprehend the, as you say, the beginning, who would take advantage of a child, and it's to me, you know, and it's obviously much more prevalent than just the elites, you know, as you said, You've done therapy. So you've seen people coming from any number of homes, you know, the broke from a number of families that, you know, middle class to poor to you name it that have experienced this? And, and yet, you know, the levels of the black nobility and others, and you sit there and go, is it is there, this this broken psyche? Is this a generational trauma that's being expressed? You know, basically, as I've heard that there, there's, there's basically any, say, generational abuse that's perpetuated by those that have been themselves abused, and then looking to then abuse the next generation, or what is the actual reason that you look that you see in terms of your analysis of why the black nobility is involved in something so reprehensible so dark, in its in its implication?

J

Joachim 08:48

Well, I think you touched on it. The Illuminati Look, there's a lot of the black nobility are luminati it's almost synonymous, and they've been around for hundreds of years. And they carry it in the family. It's all part of the kind of the brainwashing indoctrination. They take children anywhere from you know, like, one to three years old, maybe up to five, and actually begin their their rape of children at that age. And, and it's indoctrination. That basically is part of the whole psyche that they operate on. And I think that it's a it's a way to punch your ticket up. I mean, they, they have the victims who are discardable expendable. And unfortunately, those are the victims that I've worked with directly in the mental health system that are in foster care and probation. These are kids that hadn't been beginnings in life, and, but they are the fodder by which the network actually furnishes procures these children, because they are regarded as expendable. You know, life doesn't mean anything. This is the value system of these people. And, I mean, I have a chapter, some people get, you know, this is too woowoo for a lot of people. But I totally believe that there are extraterrestrial civilizations that have been migrating to the earth. And they do DNA splicing and with the humans on Earth, and I believe that, that there is a particular species of reptilian Anunnaki, that were here 250,000 years ago, and actually needed slaves, because their own kind were rebelling. And they decided, because they had the technology, that they would take the local primate walking with two feet and decided to do a little splicing. And there you go. And I believe that's modern Homo sapiens, how they were formed. And, and this is, you know, 1000s and 1000s of years ago. And so what I believe is that there are hybrid ETS that have basically been destined to rule the earth, the earth was a colony to begin with, and the humans were the slaves. Well, 250,000 years later, times haven't really changed all that much. The hybrid species tend to be still in control through the bloodlines, that pretty much rule through royalty and all the power positions of kings and queens and presidents and prime ministers. That's kind of the nature of the beast. And their sight. First of all, the, the Anunnaki were psyched, they're psychopathic. They have no concept of empathy, compassion, feeling, how a human feels, they have none. So these hybrid species that have probably more, more of the ET and then then the human, they're psychopaths as well. It's, it's, it's inbred through through DNA, but it's also the system, the social or organism of a system that will not allow anybody who is a decent human being inside the inner circle, you have to be one of them. And if you don't sell your soul to Lucifer, you are not one of them. Because all those people at the top, I would estimate at least half half the people in Congress are part of this group. Either they're pedophiles themselves, or enablers. You know, gatekeepers, but are you saying when it comes to people, like you know, in Congress and politicians, certainly I know sex is a way to control your opponents, right? Because even if in our you know, in America, for example, we saw what happened when Clinton was exposed with having, you know, the affair with Lewinsky and she was not an underage girl and yet that already brought down his presidency, right? Because it was an extramarital affair. And so we're gonna rock

S

Sean 13:14

J

Joachim 13:39

down kinda. Yeah, I mean, a little off for a little while, sure, but I'm saying it in that time period. Essentially he was hamstrung as president during that impeachment process and they use that as a tactic you know, for whatever reason to impose over a president in this case I know with Watergate there were many stories that the Watergate breaking was actually about sex that there was a call girl that they were they were looking for the the black book in terms of the call girl ring that was operating basically servicing

S

Sean 13:44

J

Joachim 14:12

apparently underage children are part of that.

S

Sean 14:16

And so it's Yeah, exactly. I didn't know about the underage children know that they were the boys there were there were male prostitutes involved which may have been at the under age category but I know that male prostitutes were involved in those in the in terms of the implication was not just extramarital affairs with women, prostitutes, but also male prostitutes, which is even more embarrassing, you know, sexual implication, especially at that time for politicians. So I know that sex is oftentimes used to control you know, how do you say control someone's politics, right? We're gonna expose your sex life we're gonna expose this process. Eliot Spitzer, another great example right? We're an out you for your affair. But the actual idea that some of these people are pedophiles is this because you believe that They are I mean, it seems like it's beyond the norm, the norm in terms of how many people in the world are pedophiles, but then, again, is pedophilia. Just what is the actual occurrence in the population? Do you think, you know, people actually are? Well, scientists will will say, you know, it varies, but but they say anywhere from one to 2%. I've also seen 5% of the general population are pedophiles. Could be more than that. But, yeah, I mean, you know, some people, they swear that they were born this way, in the same way that a homosexual will swear they were born that way as well. And transgender people say the same claim. There's, there's truth in that. But then, you know, it's the old nature versus nurture. I think there's situations in life that actually, you know, push people in directions, in with their sexuality as well. That's, that's one of the appalling things about what they're doing in schools with, with the whole LGBT sex education, cramming it down their throats, there are no way emotionally developmentally ready for anything like that. And yet, it's the agenda. It's like the Biden, you know, CCP Luciferian agenda to, you know, basically, almost like poison the children's where they're all confused, sexual identity disorder is off the charts now. And I put it as you know, the indoctrination into this kind of like Marxist, amoral system that we're headed.

J

Joachim 15:15

S

Sean 16:47

So would you, would you say that? Is it possible that many of these congressmen are or you know, politicians that are compromised because they have pedophilic tendencies? Do you think that it's not necessary because they were born that way, but as but perhaps power corrupts, and the more that they've been, basically, they've been enabled to have this access to, you know, to children, it's like, they basically have been taken over by something dark, maybe even, it's almost like a rite of passage, right? I see this that probably the most of those are not so sure about a lot of the the MPs and the Lord's in Britain, I have the five books, I have two of them exclusively devoted to scandals of UK. And, and boy, do they have a thing for little boys, these men have a powerful men have a thing for little boy,

J

Joachim 17:11

S

Sean 17:44

you know, something I've noticed

J

Joachim 17:45

also, I don't know whether that, you know, biological kind of thing or, but I would venture to say probably amongst the Congress, they're probably just kind of like, if you want to be in our club, this is part of the deal. Well, here's, here's another interesting thing that because I spent some time studying in Oxford, and I got a chance to see some of the psychology of that class. Right. And as you know, a lot of these lords and a lot of these people, especially at the upper, the upper class in England, they go to boarding schools, sure, boarding school experiences, and you had a little bit here, you know, in America, you know, with your Eton's and your other, Golden's and clubs, you know,

S

Sean 18:00

J Joachim 18:25
yeah, they got it here, too. Right.

S Sean 18:27
So you have your, your boarding school experiences here, too. And what happens is, as I understand, especially the younger boys put into boarding school, the more his sexual orientation, especially if it's only being developed with other young men, right, actually leads to oftentimes some kind of homosexual experience. Yeah, get in the boarding school, whether it's playful, yeah,

J Joachim 18:47
it's the it's the nine or

S Sean 18:50
genuinely rape, you know, because there's obviously there's male rape, and sometimes by teachers or coaches, that kind of thing as we, as we saw from the scandal with the Penn State football coach, right, or, or what's his name? hastur. Right, who was involved with young boys and right, the wrestling coach, wrestling coach thing, I mean, this stuff is like, the homosexuality that begins as a young age, oftentimes, especially with these young, you know, young boys in these schools, it's like they are stunted in ways, right, sexually, and perhaps they only know feel feel safe and comfortable and vulnerable with other young males, because that was really where they lost their innocence. I mean, this is, you know, this is just me extrapolating on my perception of pure being pure, you know, the experience of seeing, you know, seeing, seeing and hearing stories firsthand. And so it makes me wonder if that's why a lot of these Congress people coming out of these elite schools and but a lot of them, you know, have again, the the experience of having been stunted as young boys, and then ultimately are looking to that, you know, essentially, whether it's young boys or young girls, there's something very non healthy. A non threatening, it's like those powerful people that basically don't want to be threatened by a woman, or you know, or a mature person of their own, who can has their own mind and spirit and ability to say no, and the ability to talk to speak for herself, right or himself. It's like they want these, these increasingly damaged people that are rote, that are ruling the world are having a lot of influence in the world are then you know, looking to, oh, that child won't can't say no, they can't resist. They can't, they can't reject me. Right. And I think this may be where some of the psychology comes from, especially you talk about the Lords in England and whatnot. And I have to Yeah, thank you.

J

Joachim 20:40

Yeah, I think that's all part of their indoctrination. And the system is set up, you know, amongst the elite, whether it's America or Britain, you know, where they're in boarding schools, and usually, they're not even co Ed, boarding schools, you know, I mean, it's usually around their same gender. And, you know, it's, it becomes their way of life. It's amongst the, the upper class of Britain, it's been like that for generations, centuries. You know, they go to the same, you know, elite schools and, and to a great extent in America too. I mean, look at look at, you know, Yale Scotland ballrooms and their ceremony, I mean, it's all the same, you know? Precisely, is there a smoking gun case in your exam? In your mind? I mean, for many people, you know, just had a debate with Daniel Pinchbeck on, you know, on many different issues from global warming to, you know, to exactly this satanic pedophilia question, and pinch backs more, you know, the typical liberal in the regard of I don't see the evidence of this and, you know, decided, despite the fact that they have countless people that have been trafficked, and their testimony that Kathy O'Brien's of the world and others, I said, Look, for me the case that really opened my eyes to this was the Franklin cover up. Right. And that was in Nebraska. And that was just, you know, there's just too much evidence in that regard. You have John de Kamp who was a serious, serious man who was especially former Special Forces, you know, this guy was close to William Colby. He's not, you know, he's gonna write this stuff up, right? He's he was a very serious person looking at this, and understanding how dangerous it was. That to me is one of those smoking gun cases. What are the smoking gun cases? I think maybe the true affair. I mean, tell us point us to some of the smoking gun cases and go through them if you don't mind.

S

Sean 21:24

J

Joachim 22:31

The major. Well, as far as America goes, you know, that that's it. I mean, and then there's Jeffrey Epstein, of course. But, you know, as far as going right to the White House, you know, the Reagan, Bush, White House, and bush of all this is he wanted you know that that man was evil personified, because he was the he was an overlord of the whole trafficking operation. And that was global. And, and so yeah, that that's the most tangible, along with the Epstein case, that came shortly after it. You know, in fact, while the frankly the scandal was going on, Jeffrey Epstein was already getting it going with Delaney Maxwell. He was set up with Robert Maxwell, you know, brought them in. She met him at some kind of dance or something. And she took them home to meet daddy and the rest was all a setup. Because he even then, this is we're talking like the mid 80s. He was he was part of the arms, illegal arms, the Iran Contra. This is Epstein, you know. And so is that so it's Maxwell. He was part of that, too. Um, so yeah, I mean, these these are real tangible. There's so much evidence. And, you know, obviously, the Epstein case just lingers on. And Blaine's sitting there in jail right now. It'll be interesting to see what happens between now and July when supposedly, the trial starts. But my view is it probably won't go to trial. I don't know if it's going to go the same route as the FCC. I hope not. But, you know, I mean, the way it is, it could very well go where, you know, she stays alive. They sneak her out to Israel, you know, I mean, a lot of people believe that's where Epstein is right now. And I'm kind of like not I think I'm leading to a probably he was murdered. But he could be in Israel. Yeah, I mean, and that could be the same route that they're going to take with Blaine. Um, so these are the tangible cases of America. I mean, in Britain, like I say, I have two out of five books devoted to one scandal after the next if you go back to the early 80s, it's the Elm guesthouse right there in near London. And, and then they had all kinds of politicians involved in that home home see this home security? lords, they were there many, many different politicians that were patrons of the Elm guest house, and they had them even sign in. And there are records of certain individuals that are pretty well known that were part of that. So that's kind of going back there. And then and then there's Northern Ireland, I mean, that that was really the the first case because it was like the 80s. and into early 90s. With Northern Ireland, as you're aware, there was this whole IR IRA thing going where there was a lot of violence, you know, with between Ireland and the Royal loyalists of Britain at the time. And so there was a lot of terrorism going on. And basically, the Northern Ireland scandal had to do with the same deal of the one of the kinara boys home. They tap the kids in the system again. And and then they basically they they have the the agents, the Protestant agents of the loyalists, were using the kids, basically for the same reason blackmail. So and that was the case going back to the late 80s. That actually the throughout the 80s the boys home in Northern Ireland, and then you got north Wales. Oh my god, that'd be the the that scandal went on for like 1520 years, from the 80s all the way up through the 90s in northern, the northern part of the island of Wales. So I mean, it's just one after the next you know, and then of course Jimmy Savile Oh my God, I mean, the most prolific pedophile probably in British history, and also the biggest child fundraiser in British history. I mean, you know, he was, he was EMI five, he was undercover EMI five, and you touched on it earlier, the security services the CIA, the EMI five and six Mossad. They're all part of this whole scheme by the elite to entrap and control the VIP population and the government and CEOs and entertainment. It's the way of the Luciferian world unfortunately.

S

Sean 28:19

Well, right I mean, there you go. They did Epstein connect the Epstein case was very much about entrapping blackmail surveillance, right. I mean, he had the cameras and everything set up there was precisely it was it was there wasn't that there's an aspect of this in terms of intelligence gathering, as we talked about earlier how you can control politicians or powerful people, businessmen, right celebrities, by knowing about their sex life and if their sex life involves kids even that's even more powerful to control them with you know, what is the the ritual nature in terms of you know, a good game and go back to the Franklin the Franklin cover up which was a clear cut example of Satanism the kids that survived it expressing you know, their their witnessing of satanic rituals. How much would you say of the overall sex trafficking is is people his kids being you know, used for sex and then where you know where it is, it actually gets to that level of an actual actual satanic ritual sacrifice. Pure traumatization and abuse of these of these children.

Joachim 29:29

Yeah, I think it's both go on at the same time. I think that there are certain secret societies. I mean, just the laundry list of Malta knights, pilgrims society, both UK and America. Opus Dei, Freemasons, oh my god, Freemasons You know, when you get to 33 degree and higher, you're part of the whole satanic stuff. system. So it, it's mostly amongst the elite societies that that are part of the Eyes Wide Shut ritual sex torture, blood sacrifice. And then with the other, it's more political kind of parties where there's drinks and drugs. And then, you know, they send a politician with with a, maybe a young woman in her early 20s or something and, and then they have the cameras go. And this is kind of probably somewhat like the Epstein situation, but it's universal. And then they have the cameras going, and they bring the child in, in the bed with the politician. So I mean, there's a combination of both these kinds of settings, where the pedophilia is used. One is, I mean, the ones in the rituals. They are true, lucid, barians, Satanists, you know, whatever you want to call them. And they call upon interdimensional entities forces, that people would normally call it the devil. And, and they believe that and there's actual possession where they give up their body, and mind over to to Satan. And then they perform, they do these horrible things with sodomy, and cutting up and blood and all of that. And of course, they also have the Audrina comb factories on an industrial scale now, all underground, of course, but about three months ago, it made the rounds on the internet. But there were all these pages, documents of basic sites where they actually have these adrenochrome factories. And a lot of them were listed in California, as old military posts that were closed. And, and they list the child's names. And they list how old they are. And when they're going to expire, literally expire, because they use them up, they traumatize them to get the adrenochrome. And then they use them up and kill them. And this is going on, then you have the ones that are in the subterranean world inside the earth. And you have all the kids there that were bred there, some of them are adopted Warzones. And this kind of thing and brought there and other ones are actually born there and bred there. And they keep them in cages. And they do all kinds of horrific things that we don't even need to get into. But that's what's going on now and has been for a long time. That's been a long kept secret until probably what maybe two years ago, I would say it started finally first coming to the surface, literally, I guess where they're doing this kind of stuff. And and I also understand that, that we have special operations, military units that are going around the world and actually rescuing children they haven't focused on on publicizing that as far as photos and this kind of thing, for good reason. Because, you know, you don't want to give away to the enemy where you're gonna be doing and to a great extent, that's why we're not seeing a rest, you know, the Clintons and the rest. Right now. You know, a lot of us Patriots are like going Come on, you know, January 20, that, you know, the fakers in there now, you know, but now it's happening. It's all happening. I believe that the you know, and I struggled when I was writing this thing from April 2017. For probably two years, at least, I was thinking this is going from bad to worse, bad to worse, bad to worse, where the evil ones are doing more and more and more and nothing's stopping them. There's no force of good that's, that's, uh, you know, making a dent. Well, thank God, I do realize now that there have been good forces and I believe that Donald Trump is, quote, flawed as he is. I think that he's on the good side. He's one of the good guys. What did they do a hatchet job on him? You know, for all those years. He endured the lies lies lies from the left communist takeover. But anyway, yeah, there are good forces out there and they're ready and we are also either Believe arresting the Congress, people, I would venture to say probably we're gonna end up with maybe less than half of the Congress people that were in there, that will still be there. Because I think that there are a lot of mass arrests going on. I mean, that's a big fortress around DC right now. And those tubes aren't leaving, not leaving. So yeah, it's happening. It's happening, I think, I think it'll be a slow process, I don't think it's gonna be quite overnight, where, you know, suddenly, the all of people in control are all good and godly and all this, no, it's not gonna happen like that. It's gonna be slow. And there's going to be, you know, unfortunately, there's going to be false flags and, and violence and stuff like that. But I think to avoid the US civil war and mass bloodshed, Trump has played his cards, right? Because I think he's minimizing all of the worst scenario by how he's played it. Now, a lot of us were feeling like we need to show, you know, we need concrete evidence, you know, the world is starved for concrete evidence that the good guys are doing something. But now I understand. I was one of those impatient ones for a while, but but now I understand, you know, the lousy Chinese method, you know, is, is you You must prey upon the weakness of your enemy. And in this case, it's shut. It's allowing Biden, the idiot to play his cards out where the whole world realizes this is not where we want to go. And he's not taking the world in the right direction here. And when it's really self evident, for a lot of people, that's when this bloodless counter coup will all materialize in front of us. where, you know, people finally get the sense that we're moving in the right direction. It's concrete for them.

Sean 37:03

Yeah, exactly. So in the meantime, I mean, you, you mentioned that you think that we're going in a better direction, I think consciousness is critical to this overall story, right, that, you know, we talked about the Anunnaki. At the beginning, I, I do believe that there has been alien incursions. Most, I think many of them, many of them, most are benevolent or neutral. But there has been a dark side that has tampered and tried to enslave humanity. And the only way for it to, to evolve beyond slavery is to become more conscious, become more aware, right to then be able to see the game that's taking place to see the manipulation. And then you choose to avoid that or you change your reality, right, or you kick them off your planet, whatever that looks like. So as we become more conscious, become more conscious of human trafficking. The pedophilia issue, the pedophilia essentially as being not love of children actually is the horrible, it's the wrong word. It's actually abuse of children. You know, it's not love of children love the children is protecting children is being as allowing them to have their childhood and have their innocence and purity and not manipulating that. So it's not pedophilia, I think that's actually the wrong word. So as we become more aware of this problem, though, we can start to act, you know, as a collective humanity to avoid this situation going forward. What are the things that people can do? You know, beyond that, or just in, in daily life and awareness? I know. Many people would say, you know, just being attentive, and if you see something a situation that seems wrong, you know, to alert someone, but oftentimes the CPS itself, or the authorities themselves are complicit, right? So what can people really do or their networks that they can, you know, they they can call or that you that you trust, innocence at risk type of networks?

Joachim 38:46

Yeah, there, there are organizations that are anti trafficking organizations that are genuinely doing something in the trenches. And I would definitely, you know, encourage people to seek them out. I don't have like a laundry list for you or anything like that. I think at the end of my book, though, book five, I'm going to have like, an epilogue of things that we all can collectively do. But certainly that that's one avenue. The other one is just basically trying to inform and educate people. I mean, when I started this project, you bring up pedophilia, and people run in the opposite direction. They didn't, it was too disturbing for them. So we've seen a complete turnaround, just in the four years that I've been at this. Now people are eager to learn more. And so I mean, thank God, we are moving in the right direction. And I believe we are reaching critical mass. It's coming very, very soon. Because especially with the clown in there, it's only speeding it up. And with the whole pandemic scam, all that it's only sped everything up where people are waking up much faster. They slowed it down and didn't have the pandemic and didn't do the steal of the election. They would still have control but they're losing control fast now. It's wonderful. It's glorious.

To hear it very good to hear Hakim, I'll let you go for tonight. But we'll certainly be in touch as we put together, this documentary going forth and really appreciate the work you're doing. Book five is coming out soon. So definitely, for our audience, please check out the pedophilia in Empire series. Very powerful, informative work.
